LOOKING TO SHOW YOUR COMICS TO THE WORLD? JOIN THE PROBEERSEL COMICS COMMUNITY!

Probeersel.com is a friendly new online community of promising creators who want to share their art with the world for free. Probeersel is a non-profit organisation so we can't offer any pay to our artists, but they do have full control over their own work at all times. We arrange the hosting and the promotion costs. We do reserve the right to decide which artists are promising and which are not, but all copyright and control remains with the artists themselves.

We do not believe in censorship, so any artist who has joined the site has full creative control over what he/she does or doesn't publish. To name a few examples: so far we've hosted comics about a cat named Satan; about God himself being an evil, childish dictator; about the Grim Reaper starting his own internet company; coming soon will be a graphic novel about the love affair between archangel Gabriel and Lucifer; There's nudity, blasphemy, political criticism - and it's not that we're trying to be cross, our artists simply felt like making those comics.

We have lots of other fun comics and downloads, and people visiting the site can win a free t-shirt ! Probeersel is intended to be a friendly stepping-stone for new artists. Currently we're especially looking for artists who intend to do daily or weekly comics.

Interested ? Drop by, see our site, and drop us an e-mail today !
